Welcome to the Master of Fine Arts Program in the Department of Art at the University of Delaware. This handbook is designed to begin to answer some of the practical and programmatic questions you might have as a MFA student.

Program Focus and Curriculum

The University of Delaware graduate program focuses on each student developing a solid and sustainable studio practice. We accept students on the premise that they want to build a studio practice and work to realize their personal visions. The graduate faculty believes that success in the highly competitive field of art depends on the strength of an artist’s work and the artist’s active participation in the local and global discussion of ideas surrounding creative activity. Our MFA program maintains a high level of discussion about what constitutes a powerful artistic practice and product.

The MFA curriculum consists of three distinct yet interrelated parts of the graduate experience and education: research, practice, and discourse. Students are expected to maintain a dedicated studio practice that challenges and extends their investigations and to participate actively in critique that encourages the open exchange of ideas in a collaborative environment. In addition, students will take an academic course outside of the Art department to augment and expand their studio research.

The program provides for extensive individual studio time, supported by one-on-one discussions with faculty and visiting artists.

Graduate Students work with the primary guidance of three advisors each. For the first year these advisors are assigned to the student; second-year MFA students select their advisors (dependent upon availability). Advisors and students meet individually for a recommended hour every two weeks. These visits are intended to give varied viewpoints on the student’s work. This process is conceived as an informal dialogue between working artists, and might consist of encouragement to pursue certain direction but does not result in assignments or structured requirements.

It is the student’s responsibility to maintain contact with the assigned advisors and it is recommended that a schedule of regular meetings be established early in the semester. Consistent dialog with the advisors will help ensure a student-directed education. The student can, and should, take advantage of the feedback of professors who are not their advisors by setting up studio visits or inviting them to group critiques where their work will be discussed.

| ART 679, Graduate Studio (all 4 semesters)

The student’s three advisors determine the grade of the Graduate Studio with input from the graduate faculty as a whole, after the reviews at the end of each semester.
When registering for courses each student will select a lead instructor from the list of available faculty, who will be responsible for submitting their grade.

Creative practices will take on different forms, but we expect the consistent and dedicated pursuit of personal work. The department does not set specific required studio hours, but the College Art Association determined that each credit of studio practice would equal three hours of work a week, so 9 studio credits equals 27 hours a week in the studio. We strongly encourage the student to take advantage of the time here to work as much as possible.

ART 677, Critical Issues Seminar
ART 678, Research Seminar
The two department-taught seminar classes for graduate students introduce methods of research and encourage discussion that examines proposed ideas.

ART 600, Graduate Critique
Our graduates take one group critique class during each of their four semesters in the MFA program. All students participate in each critique so that each student’s work might receive the broadest range of feedback.

3 cr. course selected from outside the department
During the second semester of the MFA program students register for a class outside of the department. This presents the student the opportunity to make use of the larger University resources and to expand their thinking and personal research.

The student should find a course of interest that will support their individual research. While the course does not need to be at the 600 level it is recommended that it not be below the 400 level, though exceptions can be made.

Students should register for the class in the fall during spring registration. Finding courses just prior to the beginning of the semester can be difficult and may result in less desirable choices.

To register for the course:

1. The student requests permission from the faculty teaching the course and gives the professor a letter from the department indicating our reasoning for and expectations of the class.
2. Upon receiving permission the office of the department of the course must enroll the student using the departmental number of 666. For example, a graduate student who attends PSYC 425 and fulfills additional graduate level requirements to earn graduate credit should register for PSYC 666, not PSYC 425.
3. The department will give each student a letter explaining our reason for and expectations of the class. If the professor feels like there should be additional work assigned to meet the qualifications of a grad-level class we can assign an additional project and assess it through the department so that we do not add additional work to the load of the professors.

If the faculty or outside department does not approve your taking the course, then, unfortunately, you will have to find another option.

ART 698, MFA Exhibition
The MFA thesis show is intended to reflect the development of each artist’s work over their two years in graduate school and should suggest a set of investigations that are sustainable after graduate school.

ART 699, MFA Supporting Paper
The written thesis should describe, in depth and detail: the student’s artwork and studio practice, clearly delineate its underlying concepts and ideas, and provide a context for this work within an art and cultural history.

The MFA thesis is meant to be a “support paper” that attempts to frame the work that culminates in the thesis show. The paper has many of the demands of a traditional thesis but with less writing (12-15 written pages plus documentation of work). It constitutes one half of the thesis requirement with the other half being the work completed in the studio during the two years of graduate study.

At the beginning of the second year the student must build a thesis committee. This committee should include a lead reader plus two other readers who should help direct you in the development of your support paper. The final paper is due at the end of Winter Break when it should be approved and signed by the student’s committee members. At that point the final paper should be submitted to the office.

You must ask professors to be on your thesis committee and receive their acceptance. Your thesis committee is not automatically made up of your advisors though you may ask them if you feel like they would be best able to guide you with your research and writing.

Reviews
At the end of each of the four semesters during the graduate program there is a review of the student’s work by the entire graduate faculty. These individual reviews run 30 to 45 minutes and culminate with feedback and a group recommendation of pass, pass with warning, or probation. If the student is put on probation he or she has a semester to change their effort according to the recommendations of the graduate faculty. Both the Graduate Teaching Assistantships (GTAs) and Tuition Scholarships are merit-based and contingent on the successful reviews.

Applying for the MFA Degree
In order to receive your diploma, during your second year you must submit an “application for advanced degrees” to the University’s Office of Graduate Studies by Mid-February. You can download the application from their website.

Studio Areas and Responsibilities

Individual Studio Protocol
First-year graduate students may move into their studios on August 1. Second-year students must vacate their studios by June 30 with everything returned to “move in” conditions. Keys and space-use contracts are available from Nate Sherman, Facilities Coordinator. All graduate students are allowed, and encouraged, to be in their studios over the summer and winter breaks.

Your studios are the property of the University of Delaware and, while it is not encouraged, may be entered by employees of the University of Delaware. Your studio is given to you with the understanding that it will be used as a space to conduct your MFA research. Though it is understood that creative research can be extremely broad we ask that you respect the space allocated to you, that you do nothing to the structure that cannot be returned to its previous condition, that you do not bring pets into your space, and that your space not be treated as a residence—which is simply to say that you should take advantage of the studios to make work.

Studio Area Responsibilities
All Graduate students are required to contribute to general upkeep and studio maintenance. The particular details of these expectations will be outlined by Studio Area Heads (graduate faculty in charge of the various areas). The Chair and the Graduate Coordinator will assign additional responsibilities to those students with GTA appointments.

All graduate students with studios in the 3D areas (sculpture and ceramics) are required to get their certification on the forklift. This should be done within the first couple weeks of school and requires a scintillating class taken through the facilities department. Please contact our Art Studios Coordinator, Nate Sherman, for details.

All students may have access to areas and tools necessary for their work. However, areas with machinery and other equipment will have training workshops or other forms of orientation that you must attend in order to be assigned a key. Nate Sherman and Peter Schwenk will have the specific forms that need to be signed for each area.

Please exercise caution and safety in the studio and when operating any equipment. Graduate students have 24-hour access to studios, but should not allow strangers into the buildings after hours.
Personal Studios and Art Studios trash/recycling policy
Responsibility:
All graduate students are responsible for emptying/removing trash/recycling generated in their personal studio spaces. Custodial staff will not enter personal studios for the purpose of emptying trash or recycling cans.

All Graduate students assigned stipend studio support hours are responsible for emptying "Bulk Trash cans" in the main and supporting studios, these are cans without black plastic liners. The smaller "Custodial" cans with liners are emptied by the custodial staff; these are for food and normal trash disposal.
*note: if a trashcan is over 50 lbs the custodial staff cannot empty the can.

Disposal of Trash:
The graduate student is responsible for getting their trash and recycling into an External dumpster.

Taylor Hall/Recitation Annex- the Trash Dumpster(GREEN) is located on the north side(backside) of Old College accessible from the road that runs between Old college and Taylor Hall. The Recycle Dumpster(BLUE) is located right outside Recitation Annex as you head toward Taylor Hall.

Studio Arts- the Trash Dumpster(GREEN) is located to the left side of the buildings main entrance inside a white fence. The Recycle Dumpster(BLUE) is currently located in the parking lot on the south(train track) side of the building to the left when exiting the rear yard rolling gate.

Resources
Desks, chairs, and other random outdated paraphernalia can be found for FREE at the General Services building- see Nate for assistance. There is also a most useful dumpsite behind the Studio Arts Building.

You will find Morris Library to be an excellent resource for your research. Be sure to check out the Special Collections and become familiar with the electronic databases.

Questions about computer software and/or issues with hardware can and should be taken to the IT Help Center. Look for them online or call them at (302) 831-6000. They have thousands of online tutorials that UD faculty and students can use for free. www.udel.edu/help

Graduate students are responsible for the purchase of any materials needed for the creation of artwork.

Policies
The University of Delaware’s policy on alcohol in the Art Department buildings
The University policy prohibits the use of alcohol as follows: The possession, use, consumption, manufacture, sale, or distribution of alcohol in any University building, facility, or property except in the confines of a student’s own residence hall room if the student is 21 years of age.

The use of your studio as a graduate student is a privilege. Abuse of the University alcohol policy can lead to a student being denied the use of their studio. This means that you must not consume alcohol in your studio.

MFA Graduate Student Funding Policy
The MFA Degree at the University of Delaware is usually a two-year program. Funding is awarded to applicants and continuing students on a competitive basis.

1. Incoming students are awarded funding on the following qualifications:
   a. Quality of artistic work, artist statement
   b. Letters of recommendation
   c. Transcripts
   d. Departmental priorities (including teaching and studio coordination)
   e. Recommendation of the Graduate Faculty and Coordinator

2. Continuing second year students are awarded funding on the following qualifications:
   a. Performance in the first year of the MFA Program
      1) Quality of artistic development and vision
      2) Successful completion of the 30-hour review
      3) Teaching evaluations when applicable
   b. Recommendation of the Graduate Faculty and Coordinator
   c. Departmental priorities (including teaching and studio coordination)
   d. Adherence to University, Department and studio policies

3. The Department does not award Funding to students who do not complete the program in the initial two years.

Grad TA activities and time expectations
Those students who are awarded Graduate Teaching Assistantships (GTA) are expected to follow the guidelines regarding this as found at: http://www.udel.edu/gradoffice/financial/index.html
Click on “assistantships” and read the descriptions under “Teaching Assistants” and “Graduate Assistants”.

Typically the GTA assignments within the Department of Art include teaching one class plus 10 hours of assistance to the department in the form of either studio or project support. This may vary, as some might be assigned to teaching two classes, or another mixture of assignments. All fully funded GTA awards have the expectation of working approximately 20 hours a week.

The GTA assignments are based on experience and performance, as well as contribution to the student’s goals. Decisions on particular assignments are made by the Department Chair and the Graduate Program Coordinator.

Assignment of Teaching for Summer and Winter-session Classes
In the attempt to help each of our graduate students with the opportunity for funding and teaching experience, we work to follow these basic guidelines for the assignment of Winter and Summer classes:
- Faculty have first choice teaching classes
- Second Year MFA’s (in order from those who have received the least to the most previous funding) have first dibs to teach Winter-session classes.
- First year MFA’s (again, in order, from those who have received the least to the most previous funding) have first dibs to teach Summer classes.

You need to let the Graduate Coordinator know, as soon as possible during the year, if you are interested in additional teaching, so that we can compile a list and distribute any available classes accordingly.

Communication Policies
A basic chain of contact should be followed in order to save time and limit unnecessary e-mails or phone calls. Most problems or other concerns should be able to be solved with the student’s Advisors or Studio Area Heads. If there are programmatic issues that cannot be solved by these resources then the student should contact the Graduate Coordinator who will bring any broader departmental concerns to the Chair as needed.

Any concerns or questions regarding your funding, pay schedule, or contracts need to be directed to Cindy Delaney, Business Administrator. Any questions regarding courses or registration issues please see Amber Bonsall, Administrative Assistant.

We hope that this simple chain of communication (Advisors/Studio Area Heads, Graduate Coordinator, Chair) will make it as easy as possible to get the information and help that you need.

Basic Office Policies

Department Office Hours
The office is open from 8:00 a.m. till 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.
No new work or requests will be processed after 4:30 p.m. in any one given day.
Mail and UPS Deliveries
Campus mail is picked up and delivered once a day to the art office around 10:30 a.m. every day. UPS shipments are usually received between 12:00 and 1:00 p.m. each day. Please check your mailbox on a daily basis. The outgoing mailbox is located to the left of the mailboxes. If you are mailing a package or more than 10 first class (#10) envelopes at one time, the office staff must be informed of this for budgetary reasons.

Should you be expecting a large package, please check the office regularly to see if it has come in and remove it from the mailbox area as soon as it arrives. We cannot be responsible for your packages, and we do not have the space to house large packages for more than 24 hours.

Should you miss the morning mail pick-up, there is a large white mailbox located on the east side of Old College where you can place your outgoing mail. It will be picked up there at approximately 3:30 p.m. every day.

Photo Copying
The department copy machine is located near the mailboxes and is available only for small copying jobs. No more than 20 copies are permitted per original and no more than two originals may be copied.

Any photocopying beyond 20 copies should be emailed to artdepartment@udel.edu. The office staff will submit your request to University Printing.
