Teaching Statement:
As an experienced author, photographer and classroom teacher, I believe art can be used as a means of investigation and awareness and as a means of expression. I believe it is my responsibility to support students in pursuit of three overarching goals. First of all, I want my students to become proficient in the fundamental skills needed to communicate concepts and create original work utilizing a variety of techniques. Secondly, I seek to foster a strong understanding of visual literacy utilizing historical and contemporary art. Thirdly, I want students to be able to defend and critique work in an educated and sophisticated manner both verbally and in writing.

Course Description:
Explores issues relevant to advancing studio practice and developing a cohesive body of work for BFA exhibitions. Examines implications of pursuing a future in a fine arts studio discipline.

RESTRICTIONS: Open to BA-Art and BFA-FA juniors only.

Course Objectives & Goals:
- Research contemporary fine artist entrepreneurs and present a collaborative project proposal inspired by the case studies.
- Independently create on-line and analog portfolios that demonstrate their most developed creative skills in both written and visual forms.
- Practice persuasive public speaking by giving professional talks in-class and to the larger undergraduate body.
- Curate, plan, and execute public events and exhibitions on campus over the course of the semester.

Course Work:
In-class time is devoted to developing a voice, shared conversation, artist talks, and public presentations. It is expected that you will spend quite a bit of time outside of class writing, researching and making. Research is the glue that holds all the varied activities we are doing together, and it is the fundamental thing that allows each part of the creative practice (the making, writing, historical cataloging, etc.) to influence the other. During the semester you should be conducting personal research furthering your studio practice. This process will vary greatly from student to student but might include researching historical, social or public, poetic or literary, mechanical, technical, material, and other components of your creative thinking.

Course Requirements and Assessment:
Your grade will be calculated based on a 100-point scale.

Project 1: Website (30 points)
You will create/redesign a website for your artistic practice. The site can be created in SquareSpace, wordpress, or other web builder of your choice. Peruse artist websites. Focus on one or two that you like and use these as inspiration to reconsider your online presence. ALL of your projects throughout the semester will be posted to your website. This is how I will view and grade your work throughout the entire semester.

Project 2: 90-second talk (10 points)
You will give a 90-second talk about a successful current piece of your work. You will be recorded during this presentation and receive feedback from your peers. You will then give the same talk again with improvements based on your feedback and record the talk to post to your website.

- Describe the individual work.
- Why is the work important?
- What/who was your inspiration?
- What research did you do before/during the creation of the work?
- Are the materials you used significant?
- What do you hope your audience takes away from the piece?

Project 3: Introduction to the Resume and Artist CV (10 points)
You will create a 1-page resume and begin compiling your Artist CV that will continue to grow throughout your career. Both of these items will be posted on your website.

Project 4: Comprehensive Artist Statement (10 points)
You will compose a statement that defines and reveals key aspects of your studio practice. This statement must include a section that clearly places your work within its influences. This writing assignment will require logical and carefully edited prose. The final statement should be (500 words) in length. You will revise as many times as it takes to finalize. We will workshop statements in class and post this to your website.

- Who are you as an artist?
- Who are your influences?
- Why are you drawn to a specific medium?
- Why are you drawn to a particular subject matter?
- Why do you create the work you create?

Project 5: Social Media Presence (10 points)
Social media allows you to share your studio practice. People are able to comment, interact and share your work with others. This connection allows you to become accessible, real and professional. You will begin to craft a professional social media presence to draw viewers to your work. We will use a variety of social media sites and connect them in a way that allows you to manage them with ease using third party software including but not limited to Hootsuite, Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, YouTube... All platforms you continue/begin using will be connected to your website.

Project 6: The Exhibition (10 points)
In this project you will learn what it takes to put on an exhibition from submitting work, to hanging and labeling work, to promoting the exhibition, to the final take down. We'll be working as a class on all aspects of the Undergraduate Juried Show. You will take detailed notes and create an outline and conceptual plan for your own exhibition.

Project 7: Application to Artist Residency, Internship or Grant Proposal (10 points)
You will research and assemble the appropriate application depending on your own personal interests. This written document will include a clear and carefully edited statement that positions your work within the realm of the agencies’ mission statement. You will also include a CV and 10 images of your work as a sample with descriptions.
We’ll use the Lynn Sharp Award Application as a starting point for this project.

Project 8: Professional Lecture (10 points)
You will be responsible for creating and presenting a (5-minute) oral presentation that addresses the development of your work over the course of your undergraduate studies. You will be expected to articulate your unique vision, artistic goals, influences, target audience and speak clearly about how their work has evolved. This talk will be recorded and uploaded to your website.

Project 9: Course Evaluation (+1 bonus point)
Your final assignment in Art 416 is to evaluate the course. Your feedback is greatly appreciated and I use it to improve the quality and content in future courses.
Please log on to the UD course evaluation at www.udel.edu/course-evals.
After you complete the course evaluation, I will give you full credit for completing it.
Your responses are totally anonymous. I will be able to see all of the ratings and comments, but it is impossible for me to identify an individual who gave a certain rating or made a given comment.

Letter Grade descriptions detail the criteria for earning grades:
Plus and minus grades fall between the straight letter grades in achievement. To receive a grade of “C” or better on any assignment, it must be turned in on time unless a PRIOR arrangement has been made or there is an emergency situation.

A
Outstanding work relative to the level necessary to meet course requirements. This work goes FAR beyond completing the requirements of the assignment and shows unusual mastery of the skills and innovative and creative thinking.

B
Significantly above the level necessary to meet course requirements. A “B” is a very good grade, but not outstanding.

C
Average achievement that meets the course requirements in every respect, but does not go beyond. A “C” is a respectable grade to achieve in a class, especially if the subject matter is not where your talents lie.

D
Worthy of credit even though it fails to fully meet the course requirements. Basically, it means that you squeaked by. It is not a passing grade in your major.

F
Represents failure and signifies that the work was either (1) completed but at a level of achievement that is not worthy of credit or (2) was not completed and there was no agreement between the instructor and the student that the student would be awarded an “I.” Keep in mind that a student can turn in work, attend class and still fail the course if the work is not worthy of credit according to the clearly stated criteria for passing work. “F” is for “failed to get help.” Anyone willing to make a sincere effort can pass this class. There are many resources available for assistance. An “F” carries zero grade points and the credits for the course do not count toward any academic degree program. The credit hours for the course shall count in the grade point average.

Statement on Attending Visiting Artists, Critics, and Curators Lectures and Gallery Exhibits: Art Majors are expected to attend all Visiting Artist Lectures in the Department of Art & Design during the semester. In addition, students are expected to see all the art exhibitions in the department’s galleries. As a part of this course, you are asked to bring a sketchbook and take notes. Engaging in dialogue with our guests by asking questions is highly recommended.

Field Trips: Academic field trips are an important—and enjoyable—element of education. They often significantly enhance the content of a course by providing a type of information hard to convey in the classroom. Site visits to museums, galleries, contemporary art centers, design studios, and advertising agencies help to contextualize and enhance understandings of contemporary and historical practice. Students are strongly encouraged to attend.

Harassment and Discrimination: The University of Delaware works to promote an academic and work environment that is free from all forms of discrimination, including harassment. As a member of the community, your rights, resource and responsibilities are reflected in the non-discrimination and sexual misconduct policies. Please familiarize you yourself with these policies at www.udel.edu/oei. You can report any concerns to the University’s Office of Equity & Inclusion, at 305 Hullihen Hall, (302) 831-8063 or you can report anonymously through UD Police (302) 831-2222 or the EthicsPoint Compliance Hotline at www1.udel.edu/compliance. The university needs to know information about such incidents in order to offer resources to victims and to ensure a safe campus environment for everyone. The Title IX Coordinator will decide if the incident should be examined further. If such a situation is disclosed to me in class, in a paper assignment, or in office hours, I promise to protect your privacy—I will not disclose the incident to anyone but the Title IX Coordinator. For more information on Sexual Misconduct policies, where to get help, and how to reporting information, please refer to www.udel.edu/sexualmisconduct.
